The founder members of the Chartered Society of Physiotherapy were awarded Honorary Fellowship in 1948 (excepting Dame Rosalind Paget and Miss Florence Dove, who had died before this could be implemented).

From 1950 Fellowship was awarded to members of the Society for submitted work in the form of a thesis, dissertation, book or monograph.

Sir Charles Strong was the first physiotherapist to be awarded a knighthood for his services to physiotherapy. The KCVO (Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order) is awarded for distinguished service to the monarch or to a member of the Royal Family. Sir Charles provided animal physiotherapy to Lord Mountbatten’s stable.

The Fellowship regulations were revised in 1982 to allow CSP members who had provided an outstanding contribution to the profession to be awarded Fellowship rather than Honorary Fellowship.
