

OUR AIMS

Build a thriving physiotherapy community

Increase our membership amongst students, qualified physios and support workers in line with the growth of the profession.
Organise our members so that, collectively, they are in a stronger position to shape the profession and support each other.

Champion physiotherapy

Ensure that other professionals, and the public, recognise the scope and potential of physio.
Ensure the full roll-out of first contact physio in primary care.
Secure long-term investment in community rehabilitation for all.
Influence the balance between supply of, and demand for, physios and physio support workers to meet service needs.

Maintain an effective and sustainable organisation

Ensure the CSP remains financially stable.
Ensure our staff have the systems and support they need to deliver the strategy.
Use the research and data related to physio that is needed to deliver the strategy.

Support members in their professional and working lives

Provide the advice that members need in their practice and at work.
Protect working practitioners with PLI and legal support.
Represent members at work and negotiate on their behalf.
Develop members' leadership skills and help them into senior roles across health and care.
Help physios and physio support workers lead the way in using data and technology.

OUR OUTCOMES

OUR STRATEGIC PRINCIPLES

Empowering members: we have the greatest impact where members are able to influence at service, community, regional or national levels.

Proactively promoting physiotherapy: throughout our work, we seek to explain the positive impact of physiotherapy on personal and population health.

Supporting members in their working lives: we will provide services that members need to practice, where we are the organisation best placed to do so.

Embracing change: we will focus on physiotherapy as a solution to challenges facing health or care, and support members to maximise the benefits of the changes that address these challenges.

Being reliable partners: wherever possible we will collaborate with patients' organisations, professional bodies, unions and other stakeholders.

Being politically neutral but politically engaged: we seek to influence public policy in the interest of patients and members, but we will not align ourselves with any party.

Strengthening the organisation for future generations: we will seek to future proof the CSP so that we can sustain the profession over the next 100 years.
